QUICK HELP

Certificate Validation – FAQ & Support Guide

Q1: Why can't I find my certificate in the system?

A: The certificate database is currently updated weekly. If your certificate does not appear during a search, it may simply be scheduled for inclusion in the next update.

Resolution:

Please try again after the next weekly update. If the issue continues, email support@skillndepth.com with your full name, certificate number, and a photo of your certificate for manual review.

Q2: My certificate says “Not Validated,” but I hold a valid ADCI certification. What should I do?

A: In some cases, valid certificates may be marked as “Not Validated” due to syncing discrepancies—particularly for legacy certifications.

Resolution:

Don't worry. Contact support@skillndepth.com with the certificate details. Our support team will investigate and correct the issue promptly.

You may also contact Nancy Vu at ADCI directly for assistance related to certification records and official verification.

QUICK HELP

Certificate Validation – FAQ & Support Guide

Q3: How long will validation issues last?

A: While most certificates are syncing correctly, some users may experience intermittent validation issues for the next 30 days as we complete the transition of legacy records and address all edge cases.

Resolution:

Check back after a weekly update. If your certificate is still missing or flagged incorrectly, contact support for a manual lookup and resolution.

Q4: When will real-time validation be available?

A: We are actively working on system automation and real-time synchronization. This upgrade will eliminate the weekly delay and ensure immediate validation for new and updated records.

Resolution:

Until then, weekly updates remain in place. We will notify all members when the real-time system goes live.
